A Brief History of the Tournament: Curt Schafer arranged the first annual tournament as a fundraiser for ASU's School of Architecture in 1983. After Curt passed away in 1986, the event continued in his name. Rich Goewey was a strong supporter of the Rio Salado Architecture Foundation. In 1994, with the passing of Rich, the tournament was changed to the Curt Schafer/Rich Goewey Memorial Golf Tournament. Our world was shocked in 2006 at the sudden passing of Bob Saemisch. Bob served 9 years as chair of this tournament and was instrumental to its success. To honor all three the Tournament is now known as The Rio Salado Architecture Foundation Memorial Golf Tournament.

A change in this year's tournament - It is not a fund raiser.

As part of the Curt Schafer/Rio Salado Architecture Foundation Memorial Tournament, you are cordially invited to participate in this, the 27th annual event. This year, in light of our economic conditions, we are conducting the same format tournament with a scaled down price. Your cost - $89 per player, and you will be given the same recognition with your company name on the tournament banner. After we'll have the same good BBQ meal.

Over the past 26 years, 199 different sponsors have participated. Proceeds have gone to support university and community service projects in the name of the three deceased former tournament chairman: Curt Schafer, Rich Goewey and Bob Saemisch.

We would like to give as many of our past sponsors as possible the opportunity to participate, so we are limiting the entry to two players per invited sponsor. The second player will be entered if space is available.

Donations to the Rio Salado Architecture Foundation will be accepted, appreciated and acknowledged.

Registration Form

Registration fee: $89.

The fee covers the course expenses, including the after golf BBQ, and prizes (reduced). Your registration fee will not be tax-deductible. Members of the Student AIA will again be accepting donations for players to participate in skill prizes on various holes.

Prize donations will be gladly accepted.
