June 2009 Chapter Meeting

Where oh where is the ASU College of Design?

On April 30, 2009 the Arizona Board of Regents approved the merger of the College of Design and the Herberger College of the Arts into the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts.

What does this mean for the architecture program?

Who's the dean?

Has faculty changed?

What's the impact on the Council for Design Excellence?

What about PURL and the Stardust Center?

Join us for a conversation with Darren Petrucci, Director for the ASU School of Architecture and Landscape Architecture as he explains the new developments at ASU and what it means for the school and the profession.
