

AIA Phoenix Section Meeting

Tuesday - June 16th at 3:00 p.m.
(note meeting date and time change)

Join us for a tour of the new
ASU College of Nursing & Health Innovation Building
(located at Third and Fillmore Streets)

This five-story, 84,000 square-foot facility will provide five new classrooms for nursing students. The building will also serve as a northern gateway to ASU's Downtown Phoenix campus. The modern glass and copper structure includes a 200-seat auditorium, student facilities, faculty office and research space.

Public spaces incorporated throughout the design create green areas. The main lobby reaches two stories high and is overlooked by a student lounge and conference space. Outdoor balconies on the south and west sides create comfortable outdoor environments for students, staff and faculty.

The building skin is designed to maximize daylight inside while providing protection from the sun. Shading devices block direct sun from windows on the south, east and west facades while the north facade is fully glazed to allow maximum penetration of daylight into office and research space.

Attendees will receive 1 HSW learning unit for this tour.

Tour space is limited.
